

Validation of non-formal and informal learning - opportunities for special target groups

28.11. – 1.12.2017, Kuopio, Finland

The Finnish National Agency for Education has a pleasure to invite European adult educators and staff working with adult learning to a thematic seminar on Validation of non-formal and informal learning.

In most European countries Validation of non-formal and informal learning is carried out in the context of formal education - vocational education and training or higher education. However, the non-formal AL sector often has a crucial role in dealing with special target groups, such as immigrants, long-term unemployed, prisoners and individuals with special needs, and making their competences visible.

Questions we will tackle in the seminar are various: How can adult education better integrate validation in their core activities? What kind of tools are available for validation? How do we indicate the key stakeholders essential to validation? How do we provide high-quality validation procedures and have the individual in the focus?

The seminar will take place in Kuopio, Finland on the 28th of November – 1st of December, 2017. In the seminar, you will have a fantastic opportunity to learn from expert key notes and interactive workshops. You will have a chance to create a wide European network of adult educators, who are interested in the same theme – and, of course, to see a bit of Finnish Lake District and enjoy the Eastern Finnish hospitality.

After the seminar, you will be able to better

- comprehend the VNIFL (Validation of Non-formal and Informal Learning) process with its benefits and challenges; understand the terminology related to VNIFL and depict the quality assurance outlines of the VNIFL process
  - grasp the VNIFL process from the viewpoint of national as well as European frame of reference
  - use and have access to available tools created for VNFIL practitioners
- take advantage of a European network of adult educators and pool of experts working with VNFIL
  - plan and implement VNIFL procedures in your organization.
